Co-operation with European regulatory authorities, overseas regulatory authorities and the Commission.

For this purpose, the competent authority shall consult the European Banking Committee before making a decision.

(4) In the absence of such equivalent supervision, the competent authority shall deem what are the appropriate supervisory techniques which achieve the objectives of supervision on consolidated basis of investment firms. Such supervisory techniques shall be agreed upon by the competent authority, after consultation with other European regulatory authorities and overseas regulatory authorities involved. The European regulatory authority shall transmit its decision to the competent authority.

(8) Where the competent authority is not the consolidating supervisor and it is supervising an investment firm with significant branches in other Member States, it shall establish and chair a college of supervisors to facilitate the co-operation under sub-regulations (6) and (7). The establishment and functioning of the college shall be based on written arrangements determined by the competent authority after consultation with European regulatory authorities. In such case:

(a) the competent authority shall decide which European regulatory authorities participate in a meeting or in an activity of the college. The decision of the competent authority shall take account of the relevance of the supervisory activity to be planned or co-ordinated for these European regulatory authorities, in particular the potential impact on the stability of the financial system in the Member States concerned and in emergency situations and the obligations referred to in sub-regulations (6) and (7); and

(b) the competent authority shall keep all members of the college fully informed, in advance, of the organisation of such meetings, the main issues to be discussed and the activities to be considered. The competent authority shall also keep all the members of the college fully informed, in a timely manner, of the actions taken in those meetings or the measures carried out.

15. Without prejudice to any of the provisions of these regulations, the competent authority may, for the better implementation of these regulations, use any of its powers under the Act and may exercise any of the rights and powers assigned to the Malta Financial Services Authority under the Malta Financial Services Authority Act.
